OSI Food Solutions UK Wins International Safety Award from the British Safety Council

Marks twelfth BSC safety award for OSI plant in Scunthorpe

Aurora, IL, USA, May 4, 2018 – The British Safety Council announced the winners of its 2018 International Safety Awards on April 27, 2018 at the 60th International Safety Awards Gala Dinner in London. These annual awards recognize and celebrate organizations from around the world which have shown a real dedication to keeping their workers and workplaces healthy and safe during the 2017 calendar year.

OSI Food Solutions UK was honored to once again be among the 550 organizations recognized by the British Safety Council for exemplary safety management. The Scunthorpe facility received a merit award.

International Safety Award recipients included businesses from the UK, Africa, Asia, India, mainland Europe and the Middle East. Fifteen organizations were awarded a distinction; 185 were awarded a merit and 350 organizations achieved a pass.

“We were very proud to accept this award and once again be recognized for our commitment to high standards for health and safety by the British Safety Council,” said Ian Hurley, OSI’s safety, security and environmental manager. “This marks the twelfth year we have been honored with such distinctive recognition by the Council.”

Mike Robinson, Chief Executive of the British Safety Council, congratulated the winners. “The International Safety Awards, now in their 60th year, celebrate and reward organizations from around the world, which have demonstrated, to the satisfaction of the scheme’s independent judges, a commitment to protecting their staff from being injured or made ill at work,” he said. “Our warmest congratulations to all the winners. They should be rightly proud of their achievement.”

OSI Food Solutions UK has been producing quality food items for the restaurant industry since 1988.
